

Queens Civic Congress highlights this North Bellerose Civic Association cleanup. No doubt our communities and our City benefit when it support its volunteer neighborhood organizations. This fall effort, Saturday, November 7, included the shopping strips north and south of Union Turnpike between 248th and 249th Streets and some adjacent Bellerose location south of Union. As a matter of policy, Queens Civic Congress posts only the cleanup and not the “before” pictures. Updated 2009-11-21: vandal cam back so did our volunteers. Scroll to page four for new pics/

The locations cleaned include:
248th Street south side of Union Turnpike-side walls and parking lot
249th Street north side of Union Turnpike side walls and parking lot
247th Street and 81st Avenue, private home fence & light poles in our area.
247th Street and 81st Avenue
248th Street south side of Union

Updated 11-21-09: graffiti clean up again on the same parking lot location, 248-249 Streets and south side of Union Turnpike.
