Dear Mr. Mayor:

The Queens Civic Congress, as the voice of the civic and condo, cooperative, tenant and other community organizations in our borough, respectfully identifies the compelling need for your administration to direct the Department of City Planning to move ahead with the residential downzonings promised since the year you sought re-election. These communities – including Auburndale, Dutch Kills, Floral Park, North Flushing Laurelton, Rosedale, the entire Rockaway peninsula, Maspeth, Glendale, Waldheim/ Holly, Kew Gardens Hills and Bellerose – face delay after delay while developers lay siege to these low density neighborhoods. Your administration must intervene against those who take advantage of the failure to re-zone communities to their existing density. The Queens Civic Congress and our member civics stand ready to work with the Department of City Planning to expedite these re-zonings and the needed text amendments for R1-2 ("R1-2A"), Narrow Lots and Row Houses.

The administration was able to marshal resources for the Jamaica re-zoning with many features we found abhorrent. Fortunately, the increases in allowable density there have not created the run on housing lots that already occur in other communities such as Dutch Kills, which clearly is experiencing spillover development from Williamsburg and Greenpoint.

The Department of City Planning had worked hard and with excellent effect to rezone more than 25 Queens neighborhoods. Over the past three years, the Department's pace has diminished to a point where all we hear is delay and excuses. The delays are inexcusable and the excuses are beyond the pale. The actions do not require full environmental reviews. The action involve simple Negative Declarations that would allow City Planning to certify the zonings for review by community and borough boards, the City Planning Commission and the City Council. At each level expedited review remains possible and absolutely necessary.

The Civic Congress looks forward to working with the your administration and the Department of City Planning and with the City Council on behalf of neighborhoods across the city. Please focus your administration to save thousands of New York City neighborhood blocks before we lose them.

Sincerely,

Corey Bearak
