QUEENS CIVICS CONGRESS MEMBERS BRING ANTI-TAX MESSAGE TO ALBANY; CIVIC LEADERS MEET WITH ASSEMBLY MEMBERS

Queens Civic Congress activists visited Albany Thursday, April 3, 2008 to advise Assembly Members of the Queens Civic Congress recommendations against the congestion tax and outline alternative traffic mitigation and fiscal measures.” The delegation and a companion delegation from the Queens Chamber of Commerce, visited Members from Brooklyn, the Bronx and Staten Island as well as Queens.

In the Legislative Office Building, Corey Bearak confers with Queens Chamber of Commerce members Joshua Bienstock, Esq. (seated), and Gary Cooke, Esq., of Resolve It, Inc. and Attorney Vincent Petraro. Bienstock and Petraro serve on the Chamber's board and its Legislative Committee.

Mike and Angela Augugliaro, Lucy DeFranceschi

Our civic delegation spent a lot of time trying to convince Assembly Member Barbara Clark, the one Queens member who supports the tax.

Bruno DeFranceschi who took the other photos and Angela Augugliaro inside the state capitol. Our delegation also “parked” in its lobby to catch legislators we missed during our “walk-through” in the Legislative Office Building.
